Dubai Petroleum is an ISO 14001 accredited company that is devoted to consistently improving its efforts toward protecting the environment. This day marks the beginning of Dubai Petroleum's long history of being related to the Emirate of Dubai.

During this time period, hundreds of wells were drilled to investigate and exploit the hydrocarbon resources, and billions of barrels were produced, both of which contributed to the Emirate's overall development.

This resulted in the establishment of a local network of businesses, which eventually contributed to the earliest industrial developments in the Jebel Ali Port, which is today known as JAFZA. These developments took place around the creek.
