About Google Company:

A problem isn't truly solved until it's solved for all. Googlers build products that help create opportunities for everyone, whether down the street or across the globe. Bring your insight, imagination and a healthy disregard for the impossible. Bring everything that makes you unique. Together, we can build for everyone.

Our mission to organize the world's information and make it universally accessible and useful has always been core to everything we do at Google. It's why we make so many of our products, like Search, Maps, and Gmail, accessible and free of charge to everyone.

Advertising is what makes it possible to offer our products to everyone. While we sell things like Pixel phones, apps on the Play Store, YouTube subscriptions, and tools for businesses, we make the vast majority of our money from advertising.

So how does advertising at Google work? We make money selling ad space to businesses — big and small, global and local — in two key ways. First, businesses can reach potential customers by showing ads on a range of Google products such as Search, Maps, and YouTube.

Second, businesses can buy ad space that we show on sites and apps that partner with us, like news publications and blogs.
